Mr. Dockery, of Missouri, was the first to put in his earnest protest against the reading of the preamble and the speaker suggested to Mr. Baker that he had better withdraw it. But this Mr. Baker declined to do, insisting that the resolution accompanying the preamble was in order and that the preamble was in order and that the preamble was perfectly germane to the resolution.

Mr. Heard, of Missouri, indignantly remained the gentleman from New York that Mr. Mills was paried with Mr. McKinley and Mr. Suyres, of Texas, with as much indignation singgested to the gentleman like property of taking care of his own colleagues.

Mr. Baker submitted that his resolution was in order and ought to be read and the preamble jointed in the Record.

Mr. Baker said that if the speaker desired it he would withdraw his preamble with pleasure, but the resolution was in order.

The condition at present is a great improvement on the strike as it stood at 7 o'clock p. m., of August 8. The best feeling prevails all along the line, all our members being hopeful and remaining statuch and true to the cause. Reports which are constantly being received here that the company are moving freight as well as passengers, are entirely unrue and none is being moved to any extent. They still refuse to receive all shipments of freight offered them, which entirely disapproves Mr. Webb's assertions. The effort of the company to incide our people to riot and violence by employing Pinkerton men with choice and Winchesters has so fur been an utter failure. THE NEW YORK SITUATION.

New York, August 15—At noon today Mr. Webb said the affairs of the road were in such a good condition that the heads of the various departments could again assume control. Mr. Webb denied that he had asked the governor to call out the military to the control of the militia to control matters at East and West Albans.

General Superintendent Voorhees said he had received many applications for re-lustatement from the old men. Their cases would be considered.

THE FRENCH PROHIBITION. Minister Reid's Argument With that Nation for Justice.

Washington, August 15.—In compliance with the resolution of the senate of last July calling for all correspondence not already submitted to congress and now in duly calling for all correspondence not aiready submitted to congress and now in the department of state, touching the efforts made by the government to secure the modification or repeal by the French government of its decree of 1881 prohibiting the importation into France of American pork and kindred American products, the president today sent to the senate a letter from the acting secretary of state on the subject together with a of state on the subject together with a large volume of correspondence between Minister Reid and Secretary Blaine beginning July, 1889.

The acting secretary in his letter of The acting secretary in his letter of transmittal states that the correspondence discloses the impo, and fact that the French government now practically places it exclusion of our pork products upon economic instead of sanitary grounds. As this policy of exclusion, says Mr. Wharton, as a measure for the protection of the domestic products of France is applied only to the United States, the department has not failed to protest against the discrimination as unjust.

The correspondence is quite voluminous, including statements by the secretary of agriculture to the secretary of state of the prohibitive edicts and regulations, but the prohibitive edicts and regulations, but the most important portion is contained in a long letter addressed by Mr. Reid to M. Ribot, on July 3, last. Mr. Reid reminds the minister that he is waiting for the fulfillment of assurance unofficially given by M. Vignaud in connection with the McKinie administrative bill. He says: "While the belief was current that this course would be specifly taken, the house of representatives voted to remove the existing duty of 30 per cent on pictures and statutes. Seeing now that on pictures and statutes. Seeing now that it is not taken and beginning to believe that it will not be, the senate committee has already amended the tariff bill by reimon pictures and statutes. Seeing now that it is not taken and beginning to believe that it will not be, the senate committee his already amended the tariff bill by reimposing this duty and there is danger that the senate will approve their action. This old and growing feeling arises unlike your re-

Of the mutual good will in the case of our countries, there is happily no doubt; the world has seen more than a century's evidence of it, but I would like to show that the action we now ask is in the equal interest of the two countries; that it is especially to the benefit of France and that it is especially in the interest of the very classes in France for which a wise government always cheer-ishes the most solicitude and care and towhich a republican government is especially bound."

MORE SPEUULATION. Prices of Commodities Rising-The Week's Trade.

Trade.

New York. August 15.—R. G. Dun & Co.'s Weekly Review of Trade says. The industries are doing more. This is the speculators are doing more. This is the week's history in brief. The general average of prices of commodities is rapidly rising and has advanced more than 25 per centiduring the past week. Wheat has advanced 45 cents, oats 1 cent and corn having been pushed quite high before the report appeared, has since declined 15 cent. Pork is 50 cents per barrellower but hogs are coming forward in great number and do not advance. The exports of grain are already affected by prices, and of flour and corn shipments are less than half those of the same week last year. Cotton has fallen off 3-16 cent, but is still so high that purchases are limited. Coffee has not changed, and considerable demand for the cheaper grades is reported. Oil has risen 25 cents. The wool manufactures shows no improvement, and many makers express growing disgust at the scantines. Dry goods jobbers note that eastern and western buyers are more numerous in this market than usual, but while cotton goods are well sold up the demand for wonlens is only fair. The reports from other cities are generally favorable, no complaint being anywhere made as to the volume of current business.

The women in Guatemala are very patriotic, and are ready to fight like tigresses for their homes against the invaders, as was shown when a small frontier village was sacked by the Salvadorians a fortnight ago.

President Manendez, General Moran told Mr. Liebes, deel of heart disease. In support of this statement he maintained that the president was ailing for a long time and that his doctor had kept him in the same room with him for three months before his death. The Guatemalans, however, insist that the Salvadorian chief was poisoned.

Most of the cable reports are unreliable in Mr. Liebes opinion, because Salvador controls one cable and the Mexican government the only other one. The treachery of General Rivas and the news of his death are probably the most correctly reported events of the war.

Speaking of the coifee crop, Mr. Liebes says that it will soon be ready for shipment and this is one reason why all wish for a speedy termination of the war. This crop represents 800,000 sacks, or 104,000,000 pounds, and is worth $21,000,000. The growth of Gustemala has been phenomenal of late years and her prosperity remarks, and or neighboring towns. mark in fact and unifriendly. This old and growing feeling arises unlike your recent complaints about our tariff bilistic from no mere objection to the size of the history of the state, this section of the duty you choose to impose, although within recent years you have greatly increased it, or to minor details in your custom house. It springs from a grievance more serious and deep-seated, your persistent discrimination in favor of the products of Germany, Italy, England and other countries against those of your historic friends which you absolutely prohibit on the charge of their bad quality.

"We sak the repeal of this prohibition as an act of naked justice too long as the person and mutual interest.
